BERLIN, Feb. 18.—(AP)—
Two German women, Baroness Renate von Natzmer and Frau Benita von Falkenhayn, were killed on the block today as spies.

An executioner beheaded them in Plötzensee prison in Northwestern Berlin shortly before noon as the German government acted with war-time sternness and in the utmost secrecy to smash espionage of Germany's military secrets.

The two women were accomplices of a Polish baron, Col. Geo. Sosnowski, formerly of the Polish army.

Sosnowski himself was saved from execution by the intervention of the Polish ambassador and although the reputed espionage leader escaped with his life but under a sentence of life imprisonment.

Also sentenced to life imprisonment was Fraulein Irena von Jona, a German.

The sentences were passed Saturday by the people's court and the court's verdict was studied by the court's verdict was studied over the week-end by Reichsfuehrer Hitler himself, who is now in Munich.

Hitler ordered his legal experts headed by Hans Frank, minister of justice, to consider all angles of the case before any decision as to possible clemency was taken. Finally, however, he signed the death warrant and the decapitations took place at once.

The women implicated were said to have been dupes of Colonel Sosnowski in obtaining military information from various sources, Fraulein von Jona, for example, was the daughter of a German army general and a stenographer in the Reichswehr ministry.

Bomb is Received
In Huey's Office
National Capital

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—(AP)—A bomb which failed to explode was received in the mail today by Senator Huey P. Long.

Long was absent from the capital, spending the week in New York on private business when a package was delivered in the mail. Earl Christian, the senator's secretary, said he opened the package without noticing from where it had been sent. The machine was found within.

He immediately telephoned postal authorities and inspectors were sent to take charge.

What was described as a "bomb" was contained in a cardboard box about six inches square. Inside was a small dry cell battery similar to those used in pocket flashlights. A wire connected it with a small bottle. The bottle was broken and Christian said he believed that possibly prevented the explosion.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—(AP)—A "Pay-As-You-Fight" policy for any future war was urged upon Congress today by the house committee on military affairs.

After studying means of taking profit out of war, the committee urged the establishment of a levy beyond which war-time profits might not go, a 100 per cent levy on excess profits, and higher taxes for everybody.

The report submitted by Chairman McSwain (D-S. C.) said "outrageously extravagant" profiteering doubled the cost of the World War. Such measures as it urged, it said, would prevent that happening in any new war, and there-

WHEN IT BECAME KNOWN
RULING WAS SPLIT AFFAIR

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 18.—(AP)—Cotton prices on the New Orleans exchange took a sharp upward spurt with rather wild trading when first news of the supreme court's gold decision was received. The first understanding was that the government had won on all counts, but this information was later changed. Prices rose to 25 to 28 points above Saturday's close.

When it was learned that the decision called for the government to pay off federal "gold bonds" in gold or the equivalent amount of devalued currency, prices dropped 6 to 11 points under the top with March easing off to 12.56, May to 12.65 and July to 12.68.

The market was very active during most of the morning. After dropping to 12.34 for March, 12.41 for May and 12.44 for July, or 9 to 11 points under Saturday's close, the market rallied sharply on first news from Washington on the supreme court's decision which indicated that the government had won all phases in the gold decision.

March rose to 12.62, May to 12.73 and July to 12.79, or 28 to 35 points above the earlier lows.

Washington advises that the government had lost the federal bond case the market eased off, March dropping to 12.56, May to 12.65 and July to 12.68, or 6 to 11 points under the top.

TORONTO, Feb. 18.—(AP)—Prices shot upward on the Toronto exchange on announcement of the decision on the United States gold clause. Mining issues advanced 10 to 20 per cent and heavy advances were chalked up in the industrials.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—(AP)—Sixty-nine billion dollars was the ultimate stake in the legal maneuvering that took the celebrated "gold clause" cases into the supreme court.

The immediate stake of those who refused to accept government's emphatic "no" in answer to their demands for payment in gold, was only $58,000,000, a small sum compared with the vast total involved in all public and private contracts.

One of the men who, through counsel, had told the supreme court that Congress had no right to deprive him of his gold or the equivalent in legal currency wanted to gain only $15.80.

But that man personified thousands of holders of bonds, mortgages and other contracts containing promises to pay an estimated $100,000,000,000 in gold or its equivalent—$168,000,000,000—of devalued currency. Here is the story behind these historic cases.

Demanded Gold.

Last February Norman C. Norman of New York presented an interest coupon on a Baltimore and Ohio Railroad bond, which had a face value of $22.50 and demanded payment in gold or its

FINANCIAL SITUATION OF
GENERAL PUBLIC REMAINS
SAME AS BEFORE DECISION

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—(AP)—Here's an A-B-C-glance at what the gold decision means:

To the wrinkled dollar bills in your pocket—nothing, with a big "N." They'll buy just as much as they did yesterday and still make 100 pennies, 20 nickels, 10 dimes and four quarters.

To the $1,000 railroad bond you may own which has a clause promising to pay in the old dollar or its equivalent in gold—it means practically nothing. You can collect $1,000 in the kind of dollars you've been using ever since the government cut—on its account books—the gold content of the dollar from 25.8 grains to 15.21 grains.

To the holder of a $1,000 government bond promising to pay in gold of the old dollar which today would mean $1,690 in the devalued dollar—once again practically nothing. The court held the government didn't have the right to break its promise to pay the bond in the old gold dollar but—try and collect. The court of claims won't receive your suit so the only thing left to accept $1,000 in the kind of dollars you've got in your pocket now.

To the holder of gold certificates—if you've got one you hold it illegally and are subject to prosecution. If you put in your claim for an extra payment in the devalued dollars when you turned the certificates over to the government, it won't mean much.

The court held in effect that $1,690 in devalued dollars was due for every $1,000 in gold certificates but like the federal bonds—try and collect.

Walter D. Cline of Wichita Falls, director general of the Texas Centennial, will be the principal speaker for the meeting, and entertainment features will be supplied by the Bel Canto Quartet, one of the outstanding musical organizations of the Southwest.

Mr. Cline is a past president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, former regional director of the Federal Housing Administration.

Garner, was taken suddenly ill and died within a few hours. Mr. Garner is one of the twelve men on the jury trying Garrison, and was allowed to go to the hospital and later to his home in company with Jack Floyd, deputy sheriff. The remaining eleven members of the jury are locked up at the court-house.

KENNAMER ADMITS

PLOT WITH GORRELLDEFENDANT IN MURDER CASE
SAYS HE DID IT TO SAVE
OBJECT OF AFFECTIONSBy JOHN JAMESON
(Associated Press Staff Writer).

PAWNEE, Okla., Feb. 18.—(AP)—Phil Kennamer testified today he entered into an extortion plot with John F. Gorrell, Jr., in order to forestall the conspiracy aimed at Virginia Wilcox, oil heiress, the object of his avowed adoration.

As he took the stand to testify in defense against charges he murdered Gorrell last Thanksgiving, Kennamer turned his pale face toward Miss Wilcox, a modestly dressed, petite figure near the front of the little courtroom.

Her blue eyes never wavered and they stared at each other without the slightest indication of emotion.

A calm witness, Kennamer denied he ever agreed to kidnap the girl.

"Did you ever agree or join in a plot to kidnap Virginia Wilcox?" he was asked.

"I did not," he said, slowly, with emphasis on each word.

A little later, he testified Gorrell told him "it would be simple to lure one of the Wilcox children out and make the 'switch'."

"He asked me if I would help and I said I would."

"We went to (Everett) Gartner's apartment and I told Gorrell the plot was too complicated."

"Then we discussed simple extortion under threat of death and compromised on $20,000 as the sum to be asked."

"Then you slept in the same room at your hotel?"

"Yes, we did."

"When you awoke next morning, what was he doing?"

"He was writing the extortion letter."

EIGHTEEN OKLAHOMA
DESPERADOES STILL AT LARGE MONDAYSEARCH CONTINUES FOR MEN WHO ESCAPED FROM STATE
REFORMATORY SUNDAYBy FRANCIS E. BARDEN
(Associated Press Staff Writer).
GRANTVILLE, Feb. 18.—(AP)—Hard-core sheriffs' posse spread over the short grass plains and granite crags of southwestern Oklahoma today in search for 18 fugitives from the state reformatory here—one of them the winning killer of Peter "Uncle Pete" Jones, veteran prison tower guard.

Thirteen other convicts who joined in a dash for freedom yesterday, shielded from guards' gunfire by 20 women and children visitors, were locked in their cells while Mrs. George A. Waters, America's only woman warden of a prison for men, questioned guards and inmates in a determined effort to learn the sources of pistols smuggled to the leaders of the break.

A complete blockade of major highways, in effect all night, was unrelaxed today. Officers from Anadarko, El Reno, Chickasha, and other cities joined in a new drive to flush the felons from overnight hiding places.

Escapers Are Desperadoes.

Fathers and husbands grimly armed their homes against possible depredations by the outlaw gang of rapists, robbers and killers. After a break of 23 Granite convicts August 15, 1932, an orgy of assaults and robberies terrified Southwestern Oklahoma.

From two smuggled pistols, the plot expanded abruptly to its deadly completion.

The ring leaders appeared suddenly at the side of a trusty prisoner, serving as inside turnkey.

Division of Five to Four Eliminates Obligation
Redeem Bonds in GoldBy JOHN P. SUTER
(Associated Press Staff Writer).
(Copyright, 1935, By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—(AP)—Dividing five to four the supreme court today in effect swept away any government or private obligation to pay gold bonds in gold.

Chief Justice Hughes, delivering the majority opinion in a court-room tense with the realization of an historic moment, said Congress must be free to deal as it saw fit with matters which would affect the currency, and the court must take account of current economic conditions even in ruling on contracts.

Dissenting—with three of his colleagues—Justice McReynolds said:

"The constitution is gone."

While invalidating the law saying government obligations need not be paid in gold, the court simultaneously denied holders of federal bonds the right to sue for redress in the court of claims.

This right also was denied holders of the old gold certificates, who had sought to get $1.69 for each dollar in their certificates.

Won All Along the Line.

The government won all along the line with regard to private bonds and state and municipal gold contracts.

In each case, by five to four all around, the court upheld the right of Congress to regulate the currency.

Chief Justice Hughes read the majority opinion.

In reading the views of the dissenters, Justice McReynolds said "the constitution has been swept away."

In reference to the federal gold bonds, which were held to be annulled, the decision took no potential effect on national economy should the holders be allowed to sue for more than face value.

Here is the language in which the court partially invalidated the contested law:

"We conclude that the joint resolution of June 5, 1933, in so far as it attempted to override the obligation created by the bond suit, went beyond the congressional power."

Here is the language in which the court said the federal gold bonds to sue for redress in the court of claims:

Damages Not Recoverable.

"In view of the adjustment of the internal economy to the single measure of value as established by the legislation of the Congress, and the universal availability and use throughout the country of the legal tender currency, the setting of engagements, the payment of the plaintiff of the amount which he demands would appear to constitute not a recoupment of losses in any proper sense but an unjustified enrichment."

"Plaintiff seeks to make his case solely upon the theory that by reason of the change in the weight of the dollar he is entitled to one dollar and sixty-nine cents in the present currency for every dollar promised to the bond, redress."

BILL CREATING DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC SAFETY IMPORTANT
LEGISLATION OF PRESENT WEEK

AUSTIN, Feb. 18.—(AP)—One of the most important pieces of legislation facing the forty-fourth legislature, creation of a department of public safety, was set for special consideration in the senate today.

It was the first outstanding measure to come up in the senate after expiration of that body's rule specifying only emergency measures should be considered during the initial 40 days of the session.

Since 18 senators had signed the bill, sponsored by the special senate crime investigating committee, observers forecast it would be passed without undue difficulties, but prospects were not so rosy in the house, where committee consideration was set for later in the week.

Under the bill, the Texas Rangers and the highway patrol would be incorporated in divisions in the new law enforcement department and a third division, the headquarters, would include bureaus of identification and records, communications, intelligence and education.

Sponsors of the reorganization claimed such a department would give the state a thoroughly modern law enforcement and crime here with her parents.

and poked a pistol muzzle against his ribs.

"Give us the keys," they hissed.

With cold precision, the malcontents rounded up all inside turnkeys and Day Sergeant Walter Ford, locking them in a cell.

"Come on," they yelled.

A mob of youthful prisoners rallied to the cry, rushing headlong upstairs into the visitors' room.

"There were about 20 visitors there, mostly women and children," said Leslie Long, an Altus convict, who was there talking with his wife.

Visitors Form Shield

"We all went out toward the front tower. They herded us out there to keep the guards from shooting at them."

"After that broke, I went over and gave up."

As the mob rampaged down the corridors toward the double-barred front door and freedom, one of them snatched a sawed-off shotgun from a door-guard's wall rack.

An instant later, the same gun blazed its fatal charge at 60-year-old Peter Jones, alert in his guard tower in front of the prison walls.

"I'm sure he didn't have a chance to defend himself," cried Mrs. Waters.

The convicts hunched forward warily behind their helpless hostages.

A feminine figure raced into the yard from the warden's residence, just outside the walls. It was Warden Waters. Her hand fluttered up a signal to rifle men in sentryboxes on wall and tower.

They fired, without effect, their marksmanship impeded by the hapless captives.

Guard Shooting Hampered.

But a moment later, from a flank, came the sudden boom of Deputy Warden M. R. Gallion's automatic shotgun.

Eight boys lurched and stumbled as his slug ripped into their flesh. None was seriously hurt.

Another, terrified, halted.

A tenth was taken nearby by a civilian, Vernon Taliaferro of Carter, who was present at the break and was deputized and armed by the guards.

Twenty-one of the more determined prisoners swarmed into parked automobiles or stopped drivers of cars on the highway.

Prodding owners away from the wheels at pistol points the desperate men roared down the road.

"I couldn't get no car so I took a shot," whined Hook Rogers, one of the group recaptured.

Mrs. Waters, whose first thought was care for the casualties named five of the fugitives as the rioters fled.

Ringleaders Are Named

Malloy Kuykendall, 20-year-old jailbreaker, serving 75 years from Pottawatomie county for robbery with firearms. Last August 20, Kuykendall and two companions slugged a jailer at Tecumseh, stole Sheriff W. A. Roberts' machine gun and automobile, locked the jailer and Roberts' family in a cell, and shot the jailer, to be recaptured months later.

Lee "Little Red" Cantrell, held for safekeeping for Stephen county authorities, who feared a break from the Duncan jail. He was charged with a $400 robbery of a store at Duncan.

John Reid, held like Cantrell, in the Duncan robbery.

Buster Nichols, 20, serving four-year terms from Oklahoma county for assault with a dangerous weapon.

Bennett Casey, Oklahoma county burglar.

The break was not unexpected, said Mrs. Waters.

Break Not Unexpected

"We have been having trouble down here all week," she said. "We took every precaution but we couldn't guard against guns being smuggled in from the outside."

Her administration has been probed by three state investigating agencies, checking charges of brutality to the inmates. The result of none of the probes has been announced.

"It has been upset here since they started their investigations," complained the woman who took charge of the institution in 1927, a year after the death of her husband, who also held the office.

The break was planned and carried out with deadly precision. Ironically, many of the fugitives less than a fortnight ago scrawled their signatures to a petition asking that Mrs. Waters be retained as head of the reformatory and praising her administration.

The slain guard's widow, Mrs. Peter Jones, also worked in the reformatory, and saw her husband shot. A favorite of the inmates, to most she is familiarly known as "mother." Many of them have helped her at her work in the guards' kitchen.

Three fugitives were recaptured at Sayre by possemen.

PASSING OF GOLD STANDARD FOLLOWED BANKING-FINANCIAL CRISIS UNPRECEDENTED NATURE

By CHARLES P. SHAEFFER
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—(AP)—Financial activities of this administration, leading up to the supreme court gold clause decision, saw this country go off the gold standard and other developments which reverberated throughout the world.

The day President Roosevelt took office—March 4, 1933—virtually every bank in the nation had closed its doors to ward off huge crowds seeking to withdraw deposits.

On his second day in the White House, Mr. Roosevelt issued his famous proclamation imposing a general nationwide banking holiday.

Frequently since then have come other measures intended to combat depression.

During the bank holiday no banking institution could pay out any cash or take any other action which might facilitate hoarding.

Emergency Banking Act.

Three days later the emergency banking act was introduced in congress and passed the same day. It requested that all individuals, partnerships, associations and corporations to pay and deliver to the treasurer of the United States any gold certificates, gold bullion and gold coin owned by them.

On March 10 President Roosevelt issued an executive order prohibiting, until further notice, the sale of gold by any individual, partnership or corporation from exporting or otherwise removing from United States domains any gold coin, bullion, or gold certificates except as authorized by the treasury.

Foreign exchange restrictions also were placed in effect on this date except as would interfere with "legitimate and normal business."

The following month an executive order was issued forbidding hoarding of gold, with certain exceptions, of more than $100 per person, providing a penalty for violations.

GOLD HISTORY

equivalent—$38.10 in legal tender.

Payment was refused and Norman, determined to get the additional $165.00, sued in the supreme court of New York today.

He was named first as defendant in the constitutionality of "public resolution number 10" approved June 5, 1933, under which congress declared provisions of contract obligations requiring payment of gold, "in an amount of money measured thereby" to be against "public policy."

Just as strong an attack on the resolution was made by the Bankers Trust Company of New York and William H. Bixby, trustee under a mortgage of the Iron Mountain Railway, who asked in the United States district court at St. Louis in December, 1933, that the mortgage of $34,548,000 be made payable in gold coin, the equivalent of which under present law full currency would be $58,386,120.

Under three hundred millions in 1917.

In 1917 the Missouri Pacific Railroad company acquired the mortgaged property of the Iron Mountain road. The Missouri Pacific is now in receivership, in the hands of the receiver for the corporation for $23,124,800. The Missouri Pacific contended that if it were forced to pay in gold or its equivalent its total bonded debt would be increased from $438,000,000 to $734,000,000.

In another case F. Eugene North of New York, went to treasury department representatives on Jan. 17, 1934, and demanded that the $106,300 of gold certificates be held be rendered in gold coin which at that time had a value of $33.43 an ounce.

Government agents shook their heads and offered North $106,300 in dollar-for-dollar currency. Under protest he accepted but filed a claim in the United States court of claims for $64,234 damages.

That he said was the difference between the market value of gold and the face amount which he received.

Claimed Government Contract.

North sought to prove that gold certificates constituted an explicit contract on the part of the United States, an argument disputed by government counsel who asserted that gold certificates were money and nothing more.

The court of claims certified the case directly to the supreme court as it did the controversy involving John M. Perry, also of New York, who sued to get the legal mat with his $10,000 libration bonds.

Perry's bond was payable on or after April 15, 1934, and on May 23 he presented it with a demand for $16,931 in legal tender currency.

He was offered dollar-for-dollar in legal tender currency, the kind the grocery and dry goods store give in change. Perry wasn't satisfied and told his troubles to the supreme court.

north of the prison were:

Peter King, 21, Custer county, 15 years, armed robbery.

Coy White, 17, Craig county, two years.

Leo Dailey, 23, Tulsa county, 5 years, auto larceny.

Others captured at the prison gate:

Sherwood Likert, 21, Jackson county, 5 years.

Clyde Sutton, 21, Custer county, 10 years, armed robbery.

Take Farmer's Auto.

CLINTON, Okla., Feb. 18.—(AP)—Three men, presumably three of the 18 fugitives from the state reformatory at Granite, held up Guy Stocks, a farmer, one mile east of Clinton at 9 a. m. today and took a Dodge sedan.

The fugitives sped eastward. Another automobile, stolen at Granite when the convicts made their wild dash for freedom yesterday, was found abandoned here today.

Home Is Burglarized.

BLK CITY, Okla., Feb. 18.—(AP)—Search for 18 fugitives from the Granite state reformatory converted here today after a burglary of a residence here last night in which a pair of prison shoes were left behind. Three men were reported to have taken part in the burglary.

Several hundred possemen were on guard in the search today north of Elk City is about 35 miles north of Granite.

Congress authorized the president today May 12 to accept silver in payment of the debts of foreign governments up to $200,000,000 to reduce the weight of the gold dollar by not more than 50 per cent. To fix the weight of the silver dollar at a definite ratio in relation to the gold dollar, and to provide for the unlimited coinage of such gold and silver at the ratio as fixed.

The president also was authorized to fix the weight of the gold dollar in accordance with any international agreement which might be arranged.

A joint resolution was approved by congress on June 5, authorizing issuance of United States government obligations payable in legal tender money that in current use rather than in gold and declaring that all debts, public and private, regardless of whether they contain a clause calling for payment in gold, can be satisfied by payment in legal tender money.

This was the legislation under supreme court attack.

Newly-Mined Gold.

Later, the RFC announced it would accept newly-mined gold in payment for its debentures, at the rate of $12.36 per fine ounce, as compared with the statutory value of $20.67.

The treasury, on December 28, required every person to turn in all gold coin, bullion and gold certificates owned, not even permitting the persons $100 exemption. The gold reserve act was approved on Jan. 30, 1934, fixing the limit of gold coin, bullion and gold certificates at 60 per cent of the gold value. It also transferred title of all federal reserve gold to the government and created a $2,000,000,000 fund out of the so-called "profits" of any subsequent devaluation.

The president issued a proclamation on Jan. 31 revaluing the gold dollar at $9.00 per cent of its former gold content, and the "gold cases" in the court followed.

Crushes Treason.

The official communiqué told of the executions under the headline: "The national socialist state crushes treason." The communiqué said:

"The German reich's people's court, by verdict of Feb. 16, sentenced to death for betraying military secrets, Frau Von Falkenhayn and Frau Von Natzmer, both of Berlin."

Furthermore, the Polish citizen, George Von Sosnowski, and Irena Von Jena, were sentenced to life terms in the penitentiary on the same charge.

"The verdict of Frau Von Falkenhayn and Frau Von Natzmer was carried out after Dr. Fuchser and Reichs chancellor (Hitler) refused a pardon."

Sosnowski is accused of being the brain of a well-organized espionage network which supplied military secrets to Poland. The men became involved in the investigation as a result of their asserted acquaintance with the baron.

An Armenian girl named Herberjan, arrested six months ago on suspicion of espionage and later released, made a last-minute escape from Berlin to London as the current investigation was opened. It was reported here she too was implicated in the Sosnowski affair.

Sosnowski's luxurious home was a social center of Berlin and was frequently visited by diplomatic emissaries and persons ranking high in the German army and the Nazi party.

The former husband of Baroness Von Berg was a member of the German air corps during the world war, and is said to be well-acquainted with General Hermann Wilhelm Goering, minister of aviation.

Sosnowski was understood to have been anxious to marry Frau Von Berg in jail, thereby making her a Polish citizen and in that way possibly obtaining clemency for her.

Frau Von Berg, unofficial accounts of the alleged conspiracy say, obtained military information from her husband by worming it out of the two young women recluses.

Officials were said to have learned first of their activities at the hands of one of the young women, whose frequent absence from home at night and the source of an expensive fur coat she acquired.

Then, she made inquiries at the reichswerk office and the anti-espionage department ordered the girls placed under surveillance.

They were arrested at a party held at Sosnowski home shortly afterward.

Italian Troops Sail For Africa Ready To Fight

NAPLES, Italy, Feb. 18.—(AP)—More than 2,000 Italian troops, fully equipped, are being sent to the S. S. Gange today for Ethiopia and Italian Somaliland as part of Italy's reply to Ethiopia's defiance.

The troops are being reviewed by Premier Mussolini in Rome on Saturday. It is said in a stirring speech told the men were to write "the most beautiful page in the history of the Fascist militia."

The troops were cheered enthusiastically by the Italian populace as they marched through the streets.

The Gange was laden with war materials placed on board yesterday.

Meanwhile, the movement of officers, specialists and mechanics into Naples continued. The men arrived on virtually every train and were immediately sent to Sicily or to other ports.

Unconfirmed reports said Ethiopian troops had advanced along a wide front in Somaliland, but Italian sources understood they had some of 7,000,000,000 having been moved forward only in the vicinity of Ualual and Afud, scenes of recent clashes between Italian Somalis and Ethiopians.

EXECUTIONS

World war and a man of high standing in Germany. Apparently an effort was made not to smudge his name, for, following their divorce while he was in prison after his arrest last year, she was carried on the records as Frau von Falkenhayn rather than as Frau von Berg.

Von Berg himself, who was dismissed from the Siemens electrical works at the time his wife was arrested, now has been reinstated in the factory.

Announcements were placed on billboards throughout Berlin at 3:45 p. m. in order to give the widest possible publicity to the execution of spies.

The ministry of justice declined to divulge the exact hour of the executions.

WHO? Single persons who had net income of $1,000 or more or gross income of $5,000 or more, and married couples who had net income of $2,500 or more or gross income of $5,000 or more must file returns.

WHEN? The filing period begins January 1 and ends March 15, 1935.

WHERE? Collector of internal revenue for the district in which the person lives or has his principal place of business.

HOW? See instructions on form 1030A and 1040.

WHAT? Surtax on surtax net income in excess of $4,000.

INCOME-TAX DON'TS

DON'T prepare your return without first studying the instructions on the form.

DON'T procrastinate. Early assembling of data permits a careful consideration of all tax problems.

DON'T destroy the memoranda from which your return was prepared.

DON'T omit explanation when such information is essential to an intelligent audit. Attach memoranda to your return.

Deduction No. 19

Bad debts constitute a considerable item in the returns of many taxpayers and may be treated in one of two ways—either by deduction from gross income in respect to debts sustained to be worthless either in whole or in part or by a deduction of a reasonable addition to a reserve for bad debts. Taxpayers were given an option for 1921 to select either of the two methods. The method used in 1921 must be used in subsequent years unless permission is granted by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue to change to the other method.

Application to change must be made at least 30 days prior to the close of the taxable year for which the change is to be effective. However, a taxpayer filing a first return in 1934 may select either of the two methods subject to the approval of the commissioner upon examination of the return. Permission to adopt the reserve method is limited to taxpayers having a large number of accounts when credit is extended over a considerable period of time. It is not granted for the purpose of handling one specific debt.

When constitutes a "reasonable addition" to a reserve for bad debts must be determined in the light of the facts, and will vary as between classes of business and with conditions of business prosperity. A taxpayer using the reserve method should show in his return the volume of charge sales (or other business transactions) for the year, and the percentage of the reserve to such an amount, the total amount of notes and accounts receivable at the beginning and end of the taxable year, and the total amount of the debts ascertained to be uncollectible charged against the reserve during the taxable year.

RETAINS TITLE IN DEFEATING EMHOUSE IN COUNTY CLASH

COME BACK DEFEAT STATE
HOME FOR THE CLASS
A-B CHAMPIONSHIPS

Purdon High school defeated Emhouse High school 46-21 at 7 o'clock on the Y court Friday night to win the 1935 University of Texas Interscholastic League Class B boys' basketball championship, and after resting an hour, defeated State Home 55-7 to take the Class A title. Because of the win in the semi-final game, Emhouse came in for second place, and Dawson took off a 26-27 decision over a smaller Emmett team for third place consolation cup.

Twenty-eight teams started the grueling tournament last Friday morning and continued throughout the day, and all day Saturday, until the semi-final games were played Saturday night. The A and B games were scheduled for Wednesday night of this week, but due to the foul weather, they were postponed until Friday night.

Boys representing the trophies last night, Nolan Boyd, U. I. L. director-general, announced a junior boys' tournament will be played on Saturday and that the annual boys' girls' tournament, which is not affiliated with the Interscholastic League, but which is sponsored by the Navarro county organization, will be played on the weekend of March 1 and 2.

In the final game last night, J. Norton, stellar center of Purdon, led the attack with 15 points, and was followed by his fellow townsman, Kennedy, who made 15 points. Wetzel was highpointer for Emhouse, with 12 tallies, and O. Bonner of Emhouse, and Rogers of Purdon came next with seven points each.

The consolation game, at 8 o'clock, was the smoothest and closest game of the evening, and neither team had over a five point advantage at any time, and it was usually a one or two point leeway for either team. Emmett, favored by some to cop the third place stein, had a one point advantage with but 40 seconds to play, but their playhouse crumbled when Lawrence, Dawson guard, sank a field goal, which iced down the game for his team. Purdon launched a stall of the offense at the opening of their game against the State Home at 9 o'clock, and had scored 32 points at the half before their opponents got a single goal. Late in the third quarter and Purdon had well over 40 points before State Home looped a basket. Wilkins, State Home forward, became the man of the hour and hero of the game when he looped the first one for his team. A few minutes later he was fouled, and sank a free toss and shortly thereafter Raulston scored. State Home launched a stall of the third quarter. In the fourth quarter, the Orphans, to end their scoring at seven points for the evening.

Three players stood out for Purdon. They were Rogers, who made 19 points; J. Norton, who made 13, and Kennedy, who hit the hoop for 12 tallies. These three young men were sensations of the game, almost at will and from mevery conceivable angle.

PURDON AND TIGER FIVES TO COMPETE FROM THIS COUNTY

WACO, BYNUM, GATESVILLE
EXPECTED TO PRESENT
STRONG CLUBS

The Corsicana high school basketball team will meet Rosebud, winner of the Falls county title, at 4 o'clock Friday afternoon, February 22, at the district University of Texas Interscholastic League basketball tournament at the Waco high gymnasium.

Coach Jimmy F. Gardner was informed by R. E. Henderson, head of the league. Purdon high school, winner of the county A. and B. titles, will meet Gatesville, Coryell county winner, at 12 noon Friday.

Purdon won the Navarro county championship, by weathering a 28-team class B tournament here Friday and Saturday, February 8 and 9, and Wednesday night, February 13. Purdon, who won the tourney last year, defeated Emhouse in the class B title at 7 o'clock Wednesday night, and took the State Home leads to a huge triumph at 9 o'clock the same night.

Corsicana high school has organized into a city-county unit, under an option set forth in the U. I. L. rules, and does not have to play county games, but can send teams directly to the district. The district tournament will begin at 10:30 Friday, with Lime-stone county winner playing Bynum of Hill county, and will be followed at 12 o'clock with the Gatesville-Purdon game. Waco and the winner of the Bosque tournament will play at 2 o'clock Friday, and the first round will be completed with the Corsicana-Rosebud game at 4 o'clock.

McLennan county drew a bye, and will play the winner of the Purdon-Gatesville game at 7:30 Friday night.

The two semi-final games will be played at 10 o'clock and 11:30 night Monday, with the final game at 7 o'clock Saturday night.

Transfer to Auto.
A description of the (Chevrolet) automobile in which the two robbers transferred at Silsbee, near Beaumont, was broadcast over the state after key cities had been notified by telephone to be on the lookout for it. The paneled truck was abandoned at Silsbee, Beaumont officers reported.

G. T. Owens, the caretaker, told Captain Bill Brandt, company commander, that as he walked in the door of the supply room, "Something was in the automobile pile."

"One of the men wheeled and stuck a pistol in my ribs with the order 'stick 'em up,' Owens said. "The two men then threatened to kill me if I cried out. The second man took a piece of cloth and blindfolded me and placed me in a corner."

Owens, father of Lieut. Claude C. Owens, found the robbers when he went to work at 7 a. m. He said the front door of the armory was open, and when he saw the two men, he called out, "What are you doing here?"

Hamilton's fingerprints
Hamilton was identified as one of the robbers by C. McGraw, Beaumont police identification chief, through fingerprints taken by C. L. Bradley, his assistant. The prints were on the supply room door.

Owens described the robbers as similar in appearance, each being about 30 years of age, five feet and weighing around 135 or 140 pounds.

Police said the supply room door had been "jimmied." How they entered the front door had not been determined.

The armory is located four blocks down Wall street from Beaumont police headquarters. From Owens' description, police were inclined to think Hamilton had dyed his hair and tried to make other changes in his appearance.

On the other hand, Governor James V. Allred was opposed to a sales tax and had his tax commissioner, R. H. Montgomery, working on other suggestions to raise revenue. It was possible the governor's tax proposals would be made public this week.

Newell Tinkle, of Emhouse, a medical patient in the P. and S. Hospital for several weeks, was taken home Sunday.

Mrs. Mildred Quinn, who recently underwent an operation at the P. and S. Hospital was taken home Monday.

Miss Lucille Henry underwent an operation Monday morning at the P. and S. Hospital.

8 BROWNING MACHINE GUNS, 3600 ROUNDS AMMUNITION TAKEN

TWO MEN BIND CARETAKER
BEAUMONT ARMORY; FIN-
GERPRINTS OF HAMILTON

BEAUMONT, Feb. 16.—(P)—The national guard armory here was robbed of eight Browning machine guns and 3,600 rounds of ammunition early today by two young men and identification experts said fingerprints left on the guns were identical to those of Hamilton, the condemned bank robber, Raymond Hamilton.

Identification experts said they identified fingerprints found on the guns of the armory supply room. Those of Hamilton were recognized by officers have been searching throughout the Southwest since his narrow escape from death in a police trap at Dallas about a week ago.

Police feared that unless the deadly weapons were recovered, the state would use them in bank raids.

The fugitive robber, who is under death sentence for killing major Crowson, a guard, in a break from Eastham state prison farm, has been charged by federal authorities with a similar crime in the national guard armory at Dallas.

An elderly caretaker who entered the supply room of the armory here was covered with automatic pistols and blindfolded. He said they threatened to kill him if he cried out.

M. D.—The only thing you can do to discourage the growth of hair on your legs is to use peroxide and ammonia on it. That might be more satisfactory to you than the shaving, since your hair grows so fast and the shaved hair comes back stiffened. Usually the hair that grows on the legs and arms is very weak and will not show again for several months after it has been shaved off. If you try the mixture of peroxide and ammonia, use toilet or household ammonia and make the amounts of each about equal. To bleach out the color, use the peroxide alone at first, and then go on with the mixture to keep down the color while the drying effects are going on. As the hair grows it will lose the present stiff.

HAUPTMANN PLACED IN STATE PRISON'S DEATH CELL TODAY

CONVICTED SLAYER LIND-
BERGH BABY IS CLOSELY
GUARDED ON HIGHWAY

TRENTON, N. J., Feb. 16.—(P)—Bruno Richard Hauptmann, condemned to die for the murder of the Lindbergh baby, arrived at the New Jersey state prison today at 10:31 (E.S.T.) after a slow trip from the Hunterdon county jail over slippery roads.

The 24-mile trip from Flemington was made in 55 minutes. Hauptmann, flanked by Warden Harry McCrea and Lieut. Allan of the state police, was led into the main entrance of the prison. The big door closed behind him at 10:28.

"I am innocent," Hauptmann said, as he walked up the steps of the prison. This was in reply to a request for a "last word."

The state police escort evaded the mob of 500 persons who were gathered at one end of the prison by going around the opposite end.

The prisoner was in the second car of the police motorcade. Warden McCrea said that Hauptmann spoke very little on the trip from Flemington. He thanked the warden for the treatment he had been accorded in the Flemington jail.

"Everything's fine," he said. Prisoner No. 17,400. In the prison, Hauptmann was taken to a side room, where the commitment papers were given to Irving Bleam, prison clerk.

Hauptmann was immediately labeled prisoner 17,400. He posed for photographers, still manacled to Warden McCrea and Lieut. Allan. Some of the men placed a microphone in front of him. There was still no expression on his face as he spoke into it. He leaned forward and in a clear voice said again, "I am innocent."

Hauptmann was in Bleam's office only a few minutes before he was led away to the death house. Down the main corridor he walked between his guards, out into a small yard where he saw sunshine again—perhaps for the last time—and then into the little red brick death house.

Cell Adjoins Death Chamber. His cell, No. 9, is the last one on the first tier and adjoins the death chamber. Should Hauptmann lose his appeal from his conviction, he will take only six steps to the chair.

As he walked down the death house corridor, Hauptmann passed six other prisoners, some of whom are scheduled to die within a few weeks.

A few minutes after committing their prisoner to the state's care, Sheriff John H. Curtiss and Warden McCrea emerged from the prison and entered their car for the drive back to Flemington.

Curtiss said there had been no disturbance either as Hauptmann left Flemington or on the way. "I'm glad that's over," he said. The crowd of 500 that had gathered at the intersection of Third and Federal streets, 200 yards from the entrance, hoping for a glimpse of Hauptmann as he was sped to prison, failed to see him.

Crowd Mostly Men and Boys. The caravan entered Third street, which fronts the prison, from Cass street on the opposite end of the jail.

In the crowd were only a few women. Most of them were men and small boys, taking the affair with carnival spirit. They tossed their hats into the air as every car approached, hoping that was the one that carried Hauptmann.

A few boys sent their dogs running through the police lines down Third street and one proudly remarked, "If I can't get through, my dog can."

Col. George L. Selby, acting prison keeper, said Hauptmann brought no valuables with him. Sheriff Curtiss said, however, he brought a box of "very good cigars" that had been given the prisoner at Flemington.

At 11:15, less than 45 minutes after Hauptmann entered the prison, he had his dinner of pork and sauerkraut, dessert and coffee.

Demonstration Clubs News of County Home

Jones Ranch.
"The Present National Food Situation" will be the subject of a demonstration by Mrs. Ruth McNabb, county Home Demonstration agent. At a meeting of the Jones Ranch Home Demonstration club at the home of Mrs. E. H. Dorich, February 20, Mrs. Dorich lives three miles south of Frost on the Raleigh road.

In the Hunterdon county jail and placed in an automobile under heavy guard, for his trip to his death cell in the New Jersey state prison at Trenton today.

Hauptmann appeared on the front steps of the jail at 9:35 a. m. He had been escorted by Harry O. McCrea and Lt. Allen Smith who has been in charge of the detail of New Jersey state troopers charged with his custody since Hauptmann's removal to New Jersey.

The trio, surrounded by state troopers, paused on the steps long enough to satisfy photographers and then proceeded to the rear of the jail.

They then got into the waiting cars and started the trip to Trenton.

Four Cars in Motorcade.
The motorcade included four automobiles in which were Sheriff John H. Curtiss, deputy sheriffs and a detachment of state troopers.

No motorcycle escort was provided because of the slippery condition of the road from Flemington to Trenton.

Hauptmann was in the back seat of the second car. The car was driven by Sergeant James Crawford of the state police. Beside him sat Sheriff Curtiss.

When Hauptmann paused on the jail house steps, he smiled broadly and spoke in German to a representative of a German newspaper.

"I am innocent," he said. "Come and see me (meaning at the state prison) at Trenton."

As the door to the warden's office opened the first to emerge were state troopers who massed about the car standing guard until the prisoner was brought out.

Next came Under Sheriff A. K. Barrowcliff and Sheriff Curtiss. Hauptmann followed with his guards.

Behind the group of three came more troopers who virtually locked up with them to the waiting automobiles so carefully were the preparations made.

Wore Same Clothes.
Hauptmann wore the same grey overcoat and brown felt hat he wore when he was brought to Flemington from the Bronx, and the grey suit that he wore every day in the courtroom during his trial.

He stepped along with his characteristic brisk walk. His guards quickly adjusted their pace to his so that on the narrow sidewalk around the jail, one of them slightly preceded him and the other followed.

Despite a cheerful smile, he showed tension and nervous strain from which he was obviously suffering.

Just before his departure he was visited at his cell by Hovey Low, the deputy sheriff who sat beside him throughout his trial and with whom he developed a friendship.

Hauptmann autographed one of his photographs for Low as his last act before he left the cell block.

Only about 50 townspeople were present to see Hauptmann depart. They were kept at a distance from the jail entrance by the line of state troopers. Only newspaper representatives were allowed to approach the jail steps.

Hauptmann Case in Vaudeville.
NEW YORK, Feb. 16.—(P)—Samuel J. Burger, promoter, said today that the Hauptmann jurors would meet with John H. Curtiss, sheriff of Hunterdon county, and himself tomorrow to consider a vaudeville offer made by Burger.

Burger also has asked Edward J. Reilly to give his consent to a vaudeville tour by Mrs. Anna Hauptmann through the Middle West and expects an answer from the attorney on Monday. Burger said today that his backers had already deposited $25,000 in a New York bank as a guarantee to Mrs. Hauptmann. The money will be used to finance Hauptmann's appeal, according to the plan.

Burger said the jurors would meet at the home of Mrs. Mabel Breisford of Flemington, N. J., one of the jurors.

Miss Zama Phillips of Blooming Grove, who is attending North Texas State Teachers College at Denton, is in hospital in Denton with pneumonia.

GARZA SHERIFF IS TO MAKE FIGHT FOR TRIAL IN HOME CITY

GOVERNMENT EXPECTED TO INSIST ON CATO TRIAL TAK-ING PLACE AT LUBBOCK

FORT WORTH, Feb. 6.—(P)—A fight to have the trial of Sheriff W. F. Cato of Post held in Garza county, where the slaying of U. S. Narcotic Agent Spencer Stafford of Fort Worth on Feb. 7, occurred, will be made by defense attorneys.

Government attorneys will seek to have the trial removed to Lubbock, the nearest federal court in that division of the Northern District of Texas.

Cato, with three other men charged in connection with the slaying, is held at Dallas to await a hearing before the United States commissioner. The hearing Friday was postponed until Tuesday.

"The law says a defendant has a right to trial in the county in which the offense occurred, provided it is not too great an inconvenience to the federal court," Walter S. Scott, of Fort Worth, chief of the defense counsel, said. "We have a line of higher court decisions supporting our contention that Cato is entitled to trial in his home county."

Answering that argument, Assistant United States District Attorney Mood said it has been held by the appellate court that the absence of a federal building in a county is sufficient "inconvenience" to justify the court in removing the trial elsewhere.

"The statute has reference also to inconvenience to the witnesses," he said. "Lubbock is only 40 miles distant from the scene of the killing, and it would be no inconvenience in this day and time for witnesses to travel that far."

DALLAS, Feb. 16.—(P)—At the request of federal authorities, preliminary hearing for four residents of Post, Texas, charged with slaying Spencer Stafford, federal narcotic agent, has been postponed again, this time to next Tuesday.

Sheriff W. F. Cato of Garza county, Tom Morgan, Dr. V. A. Hartman and Dr. L. W. Kitchner were held in jail on charges filed in connection with the shooting.

A separate hearing for Morgan and Dr. Kitchner, where the charge against him was filed. The government announced it was ready to present evidence when the defendants were arraigned yesterday.

Funeral services for J. E. Summa, aged 49 years, who died at his home in Richland Friday, were held Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The rites were conducted

LETTER THREATENS DEATH TO HAUPTMANN JUSTICE AND JURY

NEW JERSEY GOVERNOR IN-CLUDED IN LIST TO DIE IF
HAUPTMANN PAYS

TRENTON, N. J., Feb. 16.—(P)—Governor Harold G. Hoffman received a letter today which threatened him, Supreme Court Justice Thomas W. Trenchard and the Hauptmann jury with the "death of revenge" if Bruno Richard Hauptmann's sentence to death in the electric chair is not commuted to life imprisonment by February 27.

The governor made no comment in making public the letter but said he would turn it over to the department of justice. Written in a long scrawl, it was received in an envelope with a Washington, D. C., postmark showing it had been mailed from the Capital at 8 p. m. Feb. 15.

The letter was addressed to "Governor of New Jersey, Trenton, N. J.," with the address on the envelope in printed form.

The letter follows:
January 14, 1934.
(Skull and Cross-Bones)
"Dear Governor of New Jersey, Judge Trenchard and Jury:

I want to have this mark (an arrow pointed to the skull and crossbones at the top of the page) removed from Hauptmann and at least five him life sentence till the kidnaper is found.

"If not so may you all meet the death of revenge, not even all the army or the state militia can protect you. If you do not make the move mentioned by February 27, it will be to bad. Get us.

"Yours truly "S-26.
"And 15,000 People of the U.S.A."

In a postscript, the writer charged the whole case was a "frame up" and that the "state cannot even prove Richard Bruno Hauptmann guilty."

The writer also referred disparagingly to the nationality of Attorney General David T. Wilentz and said New Jersey is guilty of breaking the federal law.

The postscript was signed with the one word—"Warning."

Morons Harass Betty Gow; She Strikes Female

NEW YORK, Feb. 16.—(P)—Attacker a turbulent embarking, Betty Gow, the dark-haired Scotch nurse maid to the kidnapped Lindbergh baby, was at sea today on the liner Berengaria en route to her native Scotland.

Center of a whirlwind of excitement and confusion on the Cunard line pier, she ended a helter-skelter chase over the liner with a punch to the jaw of an over-curious woman bystander.

Unable to find her stateroom in the tourist class section, Miss Gow and her party of friends were followed by an increasing crowd of curious passengers and visitors up and down decks, first class quarters, tourist class and between decks.

As the chase increased, a middle-aged woman wearing glasses pushed her way through the crowd and snatched Miss Gow by the arm.

"Let's have a look at you," she demanded.

"Let me alone," cried the now thoroughly harassed young woman, and launched a small doubled fist to the woman's face.

When the Berengaria sailed about 4 a. m. today, she had safely locked herself away in her cabin after bidding a late goodbye to her friends.

Miss Gow, who came back to testify for New Jersey against Bruno Hauptmann, arrived at the pier with friends who had given her a farewell party in Englewood. She declined to comment to newspaper reporters, and an internal revenue agent who headed the Gow party declared, "I have been instructed not to talk."

by Rev. J. F. Isbell, Methodist minister. Burial was in the Richland cemetery.

Surviving are his wife, and the following children: Mrs. Lila Hill, Dallas; Mrs. Volle Nutt, Corsicana; Miss Mabel Summa, Sarah Summa, Gloria B. Summa, Velma Estelle Summa, Lee Summa and Elmer Summa, all of Richland. The funeral was directed by McCammon & Brown of Richland.
